

Guanajuato

Contributed by Keith Rhoades
Saturday, 25 October 2003
Last Updated Friday, 09 February 2007

Daniel and I woke up and he drove me all over&hellip;we went through the mountains and through small villages to Leon. After we went to Guanajuato which was gorgeous&hellip;my favorite city. It was beautiful Undergrounds streets, and this is where Diego Rivera was born. We stayed at some friends house. The Cervantino Festival was going on which was insane&hellip;it was scary because you could hardly walk around&hellip;it was like New Orleans for Mardis Gras. Night time was crazy and we walke and walked and walked to a dia de los muertos celebration. We didn&rsquo;t get home until 1 am. I was so tired.