

Puerto Viejo

Contributed by Keith Rhoades
Tuesday, 30 March 2004

Today i still woke up angry...but i really tried to let it go. Hanlan and I rented bikes and we biked down the caribbean coast to Manzanillo....14 miles where there is a wildlife park that goes to the panama border. We hiked and it was like being in the mud run!!! my foot literally got stuck in the mud. After we went snorkeling which was incredible!!! We then biked back to puerto viejo...we saw a bunch of monkeys, toucans, etc. the wildlife is incredible..the sites and sounds..it's hard to explain i feel like i'm at disneyland. We got back to town and hanlan joined some local to play soccer as i watched on drinking cafe and smoking cigs! So...we are leaving puerto viejo tomorrow morning and heading to San Jose to see the city and go on a shopping-souvenir spree before leaving Friday